CALL FOR POSTER PRESENTATIONS

The inaugural Oklahoma Women Impacting STEM & Entrepreneurship (OK-WISE) Conference will include poster presentations for researchers in STEM fields to share their work with women from around Oklahoma. Poster presentations will take place throughout the day of the conference, and a group of applicants will be selected to present the evening before at a networking reception. The informal poster presentation will provide an opportunity for presenters to network with female leaders from around the state and to demonstrate their research in STEM fields.

The conference will highlight the impact of women on STEM-related industries and startups, as well as society and policy. The goal of OK-WISE is to connect women across Oklahoma in order to facilitate and encourage future partnerships and the continued involvement of women in STEM and entrepreneurship. Poster presenters at OK-WISE will have the chance to share their research with community leaders, policy-makers, and industry experts. We also anticipate 300-400 attendees representing a wide variety of academic and professional fields around Oklahoma. Any STEM-related poster will be considered for admission, with preference given to female presenters.
